First Day Back at Beth Ami Jewish Cultural School

We have five groups in our community of learners. Katya Hirsch and Julia Litz are teaching our preschool class. Katya is preparing for her Bat Mitzvah, and has chosen the Hebrew value of kindness, toev- lav. Christie Gosch is teaching early ed, Marti Hirsch is teaching upper el, and Lenore Kingston is teaching the mitzvah class. Madrickha Michelle Davis taught Adult Ed. Madrickha Sheila Malcolm was out of town at her nephew's wedding.

Jewish Cultural School above & Adult Education on right

Our theme this year is justice. At our first session Adult Ed., the Mitzvah class, and Marti's class focused on justice in our everyday lives by discussing an essay written by Eve S. called The In Group. Eve reported the isolation she felt in middle school as her peers ignored her and laughed behind her back. Christie's group read the story Snow In Jerusalem. In the story a Palestinian and Jewish boy both care for a cat and her kittens. Katya and Julia's preschool group read a story about a mitzvah called Something From Nothing. Please contact Lenore our School Director for a copy of Eve's essay bethamicolorado@gmail.com

Apples from the Desert
September 8 - November 5, 2011
Thursdays 7:30 p.m. | Saturdays 8:00 p.m. |
Sundays 2:00 p.m.
Pluss Theatre, MACC
350 S. Dahlia St., Denver

A heartwarming romantic comedy by one of Israel's most acclaimed writers about two generations of women who find their modern voices while navigating through the conflicting forces of tradition and religion. A young Israeli, orthodox woman is witnessed breaking a taboo by conversing with a young man at the cinema. Her mother and aunt try to separate the lovers but wind up charmed by the match instead. A poignant play about the unstoppable will of the heart, the love of sisters, and the wonderful taste of apples from the desert.

Save the dates for the General Assembly in Denver, Nov. 6-9, 2011

We are building momentum as we move closer each day to the General Assembly. With more than 3,000 Jewish leaders descending upon Denver, we are excited to bring the most influential decision makers in Jewish life across the globe here. The GA is the premier event of Jewish Federations of North America (JFNA), a national umbrella organization representing 157 Jewish Federations and over 400 network communities nationwide. We are anticipating an impressive line-up of keynote speakers this year, including President Barack Obama and Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu.

2011 GA programming tracks will focus on:
Inspirational Leadership

- The Innovation Imperative
- The Middle East 2011-2012
- Community Building
- The Federation Philanthropic Forum

For the most up-to-date information on the 2011 GA program schedule and list of speakers, please visit www.generalassembly.org

The Beth Ami Executive Committee welcomes new board members Kathy Kane and Maury Kroopnick! Kathy, familiar to many of us as a long-time congregation member, has retired from teaching in DPS (Mazel Tov!) and has agreed to share her facilitation and recording skills, starting with the July Community Meeting. Maury just relocated from Michigan to Colorado this past spring (Mazel Tov!). He's a joiner, whether it's a biking or hiking group, or the Boulder Jewish Festival, where Maury found us in June. He's a psychiatric social worker by profession, and enjoying his new home in Boulder. Thanks to both of you! The Executive Committee meets monthly at the Karasik home in Arvada and welcomes all interested participants!
